Now about a little support for the baseball team. The boys on the team give up there time just to represent the camp in the local league and they receive nothing for it, not even the support of their camp mates. Most of the time it's a long rough ride before they reach the playing feild and then nine innings or more of tough baseball and the return ride to camp.

After working hard all week and then playing Saturday leaves only one free day a week. If these boys can give their time and energy for this why cant the rest of you go out there and at least yell for them. It is a lot easier than playing and it will help the team.

If you do something fairly well it makes you feel a lot better if some one beside yourself comes along and pats you on the back. And if you do something wrong you feel quite a bit better if there is someone around who understands your are trying and gives you credit for doing your best. It's the same way with the baseball team. A little cheering maybe better for a team than a twenty game pitcher. It may help a player put a little more in his cut and place the ball where there is no feilder. It will make the infelder try for a ball instead of letting it roll for a hit.

Most of the games the team has lost this year have been to apparently better teams, but remember the better team does not always win. There are many cases where the lesser team with more fighting spirit, more intetinal fortitude, more guts has whipped the pants off a bigger and better team.

There is no disgrace in losing but there is disgrace in quitting. Right now the baseball team is loseing but it looks as if the rest of the boys in camp are doing the quitting. It is easy to back a winner but to stay with the loser takes guts, and it would appear that the enrollees of this camp have not the guts it takes.

It appears as if the team will not go to Miami to represent this league. But with the team playing and the rest of us cheering them it will have to be a real champion that goes to Miami.

FAREWELL TO THEE

Again Co. 1421 waves a farewell to some of her members, seven in all, most of them her best athletes. The boys were George ( Joe Palooka ) Nash, Charles (Bo) Garner William (Bill) Carter, Eddy Gonzalez, Jules Kincaid, Charles Ciccarello and Arthur Youngblood.

So long buddies we won't forget you.

WEEKLY SERVICES

Our regular weekly services was a success although Rev. Trice, the minister to lead failed to appear.

Mr. Alexander Linn conducted a song service and gave a short talk while his daughter played the accompaniment for the songs on the piano. Miss Linn is a senior in the Womens College at Tallahassee and Mr. Linn is a minister at the present spending some time in Venice. Mr. and Mrs. Andy James, Mr. and Mrs. Hobert James and son were present and joined in the song services.

RETURN FROM LEAVE

Frank Thompson and Earnst Smith, truck drivers returned from a delayed holiday leave recently

LIARS CONTEST

Due to the disagreement in camp as to who is the biggest liar, a vote is being issued in this paper. You can now vote on your tall tails man. Here is a chance to prove through your cooperation who is the worst liar. This is for those who are present members now of this Company.

MARVIN DONALDSON

Marvin Donaldson of Winter Beach was discharged Saturday and left for Dunnellon where is to work at a dairy.

Donaldson who enlisted July 21, 1935 has been driving a truck for the past several months. Before then he had been on the right-of-way crew.

He is the first of the several Winter Beach enrollees to be discharged from this company.

Edward Quintana returned from his home at Miami Thursday after a short leave.

He also says there is no truth in the rumor about his marital state.

The raincoats do not leak at all but they sure sweat a lot.

WHO DAT DO DIS

Who is the young man born in 1912, who on his way to Arcadia at the age of sixteen slept in a graveyard - not on account of his courage but because he did not know it was a cemetery? He broke all records at hitch-hiking from Tampa to Arcadia, getting eight different rides.

He hasn't lived at home since he was thirteen. He began his career at carpentry, turning to cow-punching (as soon as he could buy a hat) on the ninety mile prairie east of Arcadia.

-Fights-

Besides fighting cows and mosquitoes he fought two guys at one time - they knocked him down and dared him to draw a knife - he did and used it - in a small way - result - jailhouse. Got out - started selling soft drinks - 905 alcohol - Law got after him and chased him five miles through the woods - had to hide out at Indian Prairie. Another time he was chased for having a headlight out on car - conscience got him - got out of car and ran - cop looked in car and found two bottles of - well it wasn't milk. Result - forty-nine days and $20.00 fine.

-A Little Barbering-

Got 'stowed one night and tried to shave a friend with a pocket knife - someone thought he was trying to cut his throat and swung a grubbing-hoe at his head - misses and whams the man he was shaving.

-Some Riding-

Law in pursuit - then the climax. Rides sixty-five miles - think of it - through the woods on horseback from Lakeport to Arcadia in one night on one horse. Some Cowboy eh what? His last name is the first word printed on this page - at the top and his nickname is contained in the sentence just above this one. Is it's not

RAIN

The advent of the rainy season has been received gratefully by all the enrollees of this company. Though it has made working conditions more uncomfortable it has put an end to fire fighting which had become almost a daily occurrence. A few more weeks of heavy rainfall and the river will be deep enough to swim in and a few weeks after that you wont have to go to the river to swim.

A few more tender hands will fit themselves to a grubbing-hoe.

RATTLERS PLAY MULBERRY

With the season nearing to a close the Myakka Rattlers play the Vetreans camp of Mulberry at Sarasota next Saturday. The two teams are almost certain of not going to Miami but will have a good chance of getting second place.

HOW THEY STAND

	G	AB	H	R	PCT.
King	2	3	2		.667
Williams	8	26	9	3	.346
Arrington	2	3	1		.333
Stroud	1	3	1	1	.333

Clayton	6	13	2	1	.154
Richardson	4	8	1	1	.125
Monroe	5	17	2	1	.119

Garner and Gonzalez

The loss of Garner and Eddie Gonzalez will be felt deeply by the Rattlers. Garner who has been leading the team with a batting avg of .387 was one of the best.

RATTLER'S RATTIES

It seems that there will be a lot of competition as far as the liars contest is concerned, all the boys are telling the biggest lies you've ever heard. As you ought to know there is a coupon in this week's issue to vote for the biggest liar, most of the boys already bought cigars, I guess it is the political instinct in them.

"Coca Cola" seems to be a very unfortunate fellow, he moved out of a tent that had a hole on the top of it (right over his bunk too) now he sleeps in barrack one and it leaks over him. He's all wet anyway.

William (Dillinger) Awtrey has reached the height of his ambition he is now latrine orderly.

Stanlio de la Morganza (Stanly Morgan to you) liked to pop all the buttons off his shirt when a practical joker told him that he rated.

SOME MORE RATTIES

George Spanos really thought that he was going to town last night, that is until he took a look at the bulletin board.

Manuel Garcia has been doing a lot of riding around on the trucks lately. Oh well anything to get away from work.

We still can't feature Holmberg working.

Kelly was going to buy a violin but he decided that it was too expensive so he took a haircut.

When Bryant was asked why his nose was flat, he replied, "Just to be different from 'Tony the wop' or Morgan both".

No it wasn't a package of cigarettes that "Red" Phillips bought, it was a package of Ripple.

A letter addressed "Mr. Mea West" arrived in camp and was safely delivered to Mr. Talley.

If a turtle scares Morton, we wonder what one of these (supposed to be) dying goldbricks would do.

We hear that Beans Smith near-lost a finger the other day. We kinda think that he was lucky he didn't lose anything else.

That's all

That's all for this page.

You want to see how the gals at the Barbocue stands in Sarasota perk up when the Dump truck passes through town.

We wonder why Babe ever buys cigarettes. He sure doesn't have it.

Bee Ridge is happy. Box Car has returned. The Infirmary staff will have to stick to turtles.

Number two barrack is still pretty quiet. It probably will remain so.

We have three new truck drivers now. How are your insurance policies?

We hear that three new boys in Two Barrack wont want another discharge.

It was just a rumor. They wont have to go to work.

There are several good golfers in camp. They set records.

We think that the Rattlers are in for another moral victory this afternoon.

All we need for a good baseball team is nine players.

We hear that Alderman, B. is going for a pugilistic career. He sure has a sweet left. He is death with that corkscrew blow. Death for some one.

Grimmitt thinks that a little money invested in Ybor City would yield a handsome return right now.

We wonder how the skunks in Miami feel now that Silcox and Graf are residing in that city.

We wonder what has happened to Heart Throbs and the Two Poetesses from Arcadia.

Shugars n' sh't been near the Ping*pong table since Emerson has been so hot.

Arcadia seems to have lost all it's attractions for the boys or maybe the long walk back.

Dixon is making a pretty fair Cherry Lips Junior.

According to Earl Gonzalez it wasn't necessary for Stem to show anyone the ropes.

Little Rinker now has charge of the Infirmary.
